

King Takes Action On Access Road

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

An access road into the Lowell Junction Industrial area from Route 93 got a boost from the Andover Chamber of Commerce and Gov. Edward J. King this past week.

King, addressing the more than 250 in attendance at the annual Andover Chamber dinner meeting at the Lanam club last Wednesday night, said that he would confer with public works officials on Friday concerning the access road — a relief valve for Ballardvale traffic and access to the industrial area sought for many years by Andover officials.

Dean Ammedon, state public works commissioner said Wednesday that he had talked with Charlotte Martellini, a chamber vice president on the matter and given a progress report.

Ammedon said that the entire length of Route 93, from Route 128 to the New Hampshire line is under study. A joint transportation study has been initiated, Ammedon said working with regional planning commissions serving the area. He said he anticipates the study to be completed within a six-month period, which is an exceptional time frame, and with the information gathered would approach the federal highway authorities with findings. The Lowell Junction connector is within the study area.

What is hoped, Ammedon said, is that

Retiring To Her Books

By Linda S. Corbett

Ansi DeCesare isn't happy unless she has at least five books going at the same time, so somehow it's fitting that the whole West Jr. High media center has been renamed in her honor.

That change was made recently, upon request of her fellow pedagogues at West, who also contributed a set of encyclopedias in her name.

Mrs. DeCesare is retiring tomorrow after 34 years in Andover junior highs, many of them as English department head, passing on to pupils her own love of reading.

In her new-found free time she plans to continue to read "everything," and do some writing as well. She'll work on a book that is "half fact and half fiction" because, she says "real life is often more startling than fiction."

She has started some things in the past, but found her efforts had been expended trying to stimulate kids and criticize their literary efforts.

With four years of teaching high school English and Latin behind her, Mrs. DeCesare, a native of Hudson, came to Andover to teach junior high English. "I was bored with high school," she says, "and felt junior high would be more stimulating."

She taught at the one "downtown" junior high, and then moved out to the new West, where she was department head for 20 years until she was out ill a couple of years ago.

She recalls the early days when extra-curricular duties were part of what a teacher was expected to do, and says she instructed tennis, sponsored a horseback riding club, and coached basketball. She has also coached junior high plays here for 28 years.

She is proud of her reputation as being strict, and attributes her success to the fact that "kids know what I want from them and they produce."

She says she finds students read a lot today, and has had several tell her that they like herself, have several books going at the same time.

"Kids are working hard again," she says.

"Difficult Stand"

School Board Gets Positive Response

The school committee and administration said Tuesday night that the overwhelming public response to last week's expulsion of six students involved in drug arrests, has been positive.

Chairman Elaine Viehmann publicly thanked the people who had called to comment on the committee's action, particularly the "many" who registered their support.

"It is heart-warming," she said, "when you take a difficult stand."

Meanwhile, the three juniors who were arrested as a result of an undercover police investigation at the high school, have petitioned the school committee to take their final exams, even though they weren't allowed to attend school for the rest of the year. They will still have to petition the committee for re-entry to school up to one year from last week, or at the conclusion of the court case.

Two seniors will be allowed to petition for their diplomas at the end of a year or conclusion of the court case. A third received his diploma by mail.

Mrs. Viehmann also read a letter from the board of the South School PTO, which "fully supported" the action "to reduce the drug traffic flow in the schools." It said that "every effort should be made to condemn rather than condone" such behavior, and noted that drug trafficking is a highly profitable business with roots "deep in organized crime. It concluded that 'we cannot stand by and accept the unacceptable' and urged other PTO's, civic groups and parents to join in.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said he had received a letter from the president of the Andover Education Association supporting the school committee's position. He said it was the first time in a while they'd received a positive reaction from the AEA on a committee action.

Later in the meeting, Committeeman Joseph Finn proposed to add more bite to school committee policies regarding drugs, drinking, and improper behavior.

Finn said students should be "put on notice" that the committee was not going

State Control Of Elections Opposed

Town Clerk Elden Salter was asked by selectmen Monday night to write a letter to state officials registering the board's disapproval of any legislation which would reduce local control of elections.

Salter said that since many small towns now depend on the state to help run their elections, Secretary of State Michael J. Connolly wants to officially become the chief state election official. He would then directly control all town clerks in the state concerning elections.

When the letter is approved and signed by selectmen, it will be sent to Rep. Gerald Cohen, the state committee on elections and the secretary of state.

Five Million Gallons Sold To No. Reading

Andover sold 5,588,470 gallons of water to North Reading during May, according to report by water superintendent Ernest J. Cote.

North Reading has had problems with their wells for several months, and has been buying water from Andover to tide them over.

In April, North Reading sought a long-term water contract from Andover, but was put off by selectmen. The board said then it would supply water for a total of four months — until August — and then decide what to do. It is waiting for a report from North Reading.

North Reading has drilled a new well which is scheduled to be Operational June 15, according to Andover's Public Works Director Robert McQuade.

The board plans to discuss the matter further at a future conference session.

To Examine Speed Problem

The town manager, director of public works and community development director are scheduled to meet with residents of Algonquin Avenue Saturday morning at 9 a.m. to investigate how best to control traffic flow on the street.

Residents petitioned the town to dead-end the street at Commanche Place, to keep out traffic which is cutting across from Dascomb Road to Lovejoy Road.

Residents said traffic on the winding road with no sidewalks was endangering children and other pedestrians in the area.

MVPC Gets Reluctant Approval

Selectmen voted Monday night to designate the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission an economic development district, which will enable it to apply for federal funds.

Selectman James Abramson moved the designation "lukewarmly," and Selectman Lawrence Sullivan seconded it the same way. The vote was unanimous in favor of the motion, with Selectman Susan T. Poore voting "aye" reluctantly.

The selectmen said the designation of the economic district would not hurt but would not help Andover significantly.

Block Parties Approved

Selectmen approved two street closing Monday night to accommodate block parties.

Washington Ave. will be closed from Summer Street to Elm Street on Saturday, June 23 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Kathleen Drive will be closed from Marie Drive and Highland Road on July 4 between noon and 4 p.m. Rain date is July 8.

Senior Citizens Lunch Program

The Andover Senior Citizens Lunch program at the West Elementary School will recess for three weeks beginning June 18. The last lunch for the school year will be Friday, June 15.

A special summer lunch program will begin Monday, July 9 and run for six weeks. Summer lunches will be served at 12 noon at the West

Andover High Graduates Praised

With brief commentary on drug arrests at the high school, and media attention to the matter, speakers praised the Andover High school class of 1979 during commencement exercises at Eugene V. Lovely field last Wednesday night.

State Rep. Gerald M. Cohen, commencement speaker, used Homer's "Odyssey" in advising the graduates on their future course through life.

He advised the graduates that life would be full of odysseys and advised them to steer a straight course in their journey in order to be successful.

With television crews and more than the usual reporters and photographers on hand, due to the drug arrests two days earlier, Cohen received applause when he noted that he felt the media should give more attention to the graduation than to the other problems.

Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert, in his address to the graduates, also commented on the wide coverage given the drug matter, at the same time emphasizing his feeling that administrators have definite standards and he would adhere to them as long as he was administrator here.

Supt. Seifert praised the class for its leadership and said the class of '79 was a good class.

School Committee Chairman Elaine Viehmann commented on the environment in which the class had grown up in, adding that the class had matured through the problems of inflation, pollution, hunger and world problems.

The students, she said had learned to accept responsibility and face complex problems.

Principal Philip F. Wormwood presented the class to school committee members who presented diplomas.

Four Plans Given Building Group

The school committee Tuesday night voted to pass along four grade alternative plans — the 5-3-4, 6-3-3, 4-4-4 and 6-2-4 — to the building committee for consideration in overall building plans.

They did, however, make sure that building committee representative Virginia Cole got the message that they would only support the 4-4-4 if they knew the fifth graders would be physically separated from the more mature eighth graders, and that they still feel a two-year middle school doesn't allow the pupils sufficient time for adjustment.

School chairman Elaine Viehmann said that in the past week, people have generally expressed to her negative feelings about 4-4-4, and some positive interest in 5-3-4, should the present 6-3-3 be abandoned. Committeeman Joseph Finn's constituents pretty much echoed those sentiments.

Mrs. Viehmann said she felt the 4-4-4 would work only if "separation and insulation" were provided to "protect the young students from the older element" in a middle school. She said that wouldn't be possible at West Jr. High, for instance, but would at East where there are actually two separate buildings.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert asked if they would, for instance, promote separate science labs for each of the four grades. The costs would be astronomical, he said, and the basic philosophy behind middle schools undermined.

Dick Neal, former assistant principal at West Jr. High, said that grouping fifth and eighth graders in one school presents an "understandable concern" on the part of parents, but said that concern often disappears once the arrangement is completed.

While not advocating the 4-4-4 plan, he urged the committee not to drop it at this point as an alternative.

Theresa Reichert of Cheever Circle spoke out in favor of the present 6-3-3 plan. Maintaining that her youngsters have benefited socially and emotionally by being in the ninth grade in junior high, while Kathleen Scanlon, a parent and teacher, saw the advantages of moving the ninth grade out of the junior high. She said those youngsters are physically and mentally more mature than the seventh and eighth graders, and that she could envision solidarity building between ninth graders and sophomores in high school. The latter are now alone, she said, against the upper classmen.

At the same time, Mrs. Scanlon said she could see the sixth grade being moved up to the middle school, because she often felt the sixth grade was a waste.

"As parent and educator," she said she was "very excited" about those possibilities.

Elaine Perry, representative from the high school, said that in either a 5-5-4 or 5-3-4 situation, there has to be a true middle school, not a junior high.

That would require staff re-training, which would be considered as a disadvantage because of financial implications, said Mrs. Viehmann, "but I see it as an advantage."

Need Host Families For Students

Sue Stephens has provided information on the group from Spain that will arrive in Andover July 10 for a stay of four weeks.

Mrs. Stephens said more local families are needed to host the high school boys, aged 15 to 21 on their first visit to the United States. Senior Antonio Hernandez reported that the students have received special orientation classes and have studied the geography and history of Mass. extensively in preparation for their visit.

The children of the host families in Andover may wish to visit their new friends in Spain next year under American Institute for Foreign Study programs. They will be granted a $200 partial scholarship for this purpose. The families also stand to benefit from the direct exposure to the Spanish language offered to them in their homes by the guest students. Furthermore, the students come to Andover with their own pocket money, and transportation and insurance are already provided.

The students will attend special English classes arranged for them by Mrs. Stevens at Andover High School where they will be

A 10 Percent Increase From Uncle Ed

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night that thanks to the efforts of Pam Kvilekval and Ed Maguire, Andover received $82,000 more in special education funds than was originally expected from the state this year.

He said the pupil personnel administrator and business manager disagreed with the state's original estimate and had asked for reconsideration. They have been notified of the additional funds that represent, Seifert said, "more than a 10 percent increase from Uncle Ed (King)."

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann noted that the $82,000 would go directly into the town's free cash account to help offset the tax rate. People should know, she said, that it will not be going into the schools.

Ducks

The duck's name comes from the Middle English word, duke, meaning a diving bird. Goose derives from the Old English word, gos, and swan probably comes from the Latin, sonus, meaning sound, referring to the tumultuous call of some swans.

Minimum Wage Appeal Falls On Deaf Ears

Andover's school aides appealed to the school committee Tuesday night to pull all their members up above minimum wage, but to no avail.

The committee indicated they would stick by their recent decision to cut aide hours back by 10 percent across the board next year, in the interest of economy, and would abide by the most recent negotiated salaries.

Business Manager Ed Maguire said the starting aide salary this year is $2.54 and hour and next year will be $2.73. Federal minimum wage is $2.90 this year and $3.15 next year.

Unfortunately, Maguire said, the minimum wage is increasing faster than the step increases in the aide contract.

Representing the Andover Aide Association, Theresa McNally, instructional aide at Sanborn School, said the group voted unanimously last week to ask the committee to bring all aides up to the federal minimum wage.

She said some 20 percent of the aides earn less than the $2.90 minimum and that they are the only town employees below that standard.

Town meeting was presented with a $63,000 budget item earmarked to help correct the inequities, she said, and asked, "Are plans being made to bring them up to minimum wage?"

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said that a percent case upheld the practice of exempting public employees from the federal minimum. Communities do not have to pay $2.90 an hour for their employees, she said, and added that food service workers here also earn less than that amount.

She said the $63,000 was included in the school's 8.3 percent budget, but not in the 5.3 percent budget they were finally voted by town meeting.

She said there will be a 10 percent decrease in aide hours next year, and that the salary schedule will remain the same as the negotiated contract.

Maguire said yesterday he hopes to take care of the loss in aide time through attrition. Unfortunately, he said, they have to give the aides some indication now whether they'll be rehired in the fall, while most of the turnover occurs during the summer. It's probably that some will get dear aide letters, he said, but that there will be a place for them come fall.

In other personnel action Tuesday night, the committee accepted the resignations of Martha Sheets, media librarian at Shawsheen School, and Cynthia Velishka, art teacher at Doherty, and approved leaves of absence for 1979-80 for Susan Lunn, phys ed teacher at East Jr. High and William Spencer, Loft 2 teacher at Bancroft.

Elsie Barnard, currently high school guidance counselor, received her first re-election, and will be transferred to a social studies teaching position, at $16,167. She'll teach the equivalent of four days at the high school and one at West Jr. High.

Appreciation Not Brickbats

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The recent arrest of Andover High School students for selling drugs was shocking and disappointing. Many who have enjoyed living in Andover for a number of years are convinced that it is a fine community and they are right. But Andover does exist in the confused and confusing United States of 1979 with its increasing reliance on "a little help from my friends."

Further reflection attaches the reactions of shock and disappointment to the fact of students selling drugs, not to the discovery and arrest. The outcry on the part of some against the Andover Police and Dr. Kenneth Seifert is ill-conceived and misdirected. Are we collectively to regress to the attitude of the ancient Greeks who slew the messenger bringing bad tidings?

Andover's being a fine community is attributable to many facts: The physical beauty of the town, the good people living in it and the presence of Phillips Academy are a few. To my perception, however, there is no Andover attribute more excellent in quality or significant in contribution than our wise, caring, energetic, highly professional and effective Superintendent of Schools, Ken Seifert deserves appreciation, not brickbats.

Outstanding

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

This is to inform you of the most outstanding musical performance given by the Andover High School Choirs under the very capable direction of Mr. Keith H. Gould.

It is our pleasure to not only highly commend your director and students for excellent musicianship but also for their demonstration of the obvious very high level of educational practices and principles representative of your school.

You are to be congratulated for having such highly qualified faculty within your community and for that vital community support which evidenced itself in the fine musical performance and outstanding conduct of your youth as represented by the Andover Choir.

It is our hope that you do print this letter. The good things about our young people go unnoticed while we hear only about the bad. Andover should be proud of Mr. Gould and his choir.

Annual Chamber Dinner Meeting

the study results will point up needs for accelerated action and eliminate some of the environmental impact studies prerequisite to actual road construction planning.

The commissioner said the department was well into the planning stages for access roads along 93 industrial areas. Additional access roads off the express highway are difficult to obtain at the federal level without substantial data, due to safety factors, the commissioner pointed out.

King, who had two other speaking engagements last Wednesday, addressed the gathering before dinner. He had been approached during the reception on the matter of the access road.

During his remarks he commented that it was the first he had heard of the need, but would discuss it with the commissioner on Friday.

important thing in the world," says Mrs. DeCesare, who was reading books at four. "She said you could do anything you wanted in this world if you could read. Cooking and cleaning came second. She said those things, 'you can steal with your eyes,' or learn by imitating."

Mrs. DeCesare says she finds all the worlds she wants in books, and even prefers reading to travel in this day and age.

"Traveling isn't going from one Americanized hotel to another," she says, and plans to stick fairly close to their Methuen home with husband Henry, who is already retired.

While she loves teaching, and numbers 42 year's worth of pupils as her children, she says she's now ready to move over and give someone else a chance.

She has been feted by some 130 people at a dinner at the Andover Country Club, by the Andover Education Association at a tea at Phillips Academy, and by the English Department at a tea at the Andover Inn.

But it took her students, she smiles

During his remarks, the governor commented on the need for continued development of high technology industry in the state and the need to provide tax relief to people in the state.

At the outset, he commented on his hope to attain a $500 million rollback on taxes this year, adding, "but I guess we won't succeed there. But we will keep trying in the years ahead."

King spoke of the necessity to meet manpower needs in the state through a good educational climate and the need for continued industrial development to overcome unemployment which only leads to a heightening of problems such as drug abuse, alcoholism and other social ills.

He called on the chamber to continue to work toward improvements in the economic and social climate of the community as assist to improvements throughout the state.

Robert L. Clark, president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, also addressed the meeting on the optimistic industrial outlook in the general area and in Andover particularly with the new industrial neighbors which have come to the town within the past few years.

Clark said the flight of industry to New Hampshire has abated due to the improved economic climate in the state, and cited Andover as a particular example. He praised the Chamber for their effort in improvement of the business climate in the area.

Retiring Andover Chamber President Jeffrey S. French commented on the past year as one of change and challenge and also cited the town's industrial growth, mentioning particularly the arrival of Polaroid, King Arthur Flour, Instrumentation Laboratories, Harris Environmental Systems, along with expansion of the Raytheon Plant, and the recent announcement of intent to locate here by GCA Corp.

French also commented on the construction of the new Andover Savings Bank building in downtown Andover as a significant addition to the town's central business district.

Francis J. McBride, new Chamber president, presented French with a plaque expressing appreciation for his service. McBride said he intended to continue the efforts already initiated by the chamber and to improve the overall environment not only for the business and industrial climate, but for residents as well in the year ahead.

Mrs. Margaret Keck was presented the Community Service Award by French for her many years of service to the town, particularly to the planning board.

Robert Finlayson was awarded the President's Plaque in appreciation of his service to the chamber and assistance on several projects.

Dr. Joseph A. Harrington, clinical psychologist, guest speaker, advised business people to learn to deal with tension and stress in their daily lives.

promptly, "to beat me at my own game."

Mrs. DeCesare has never allowed parties in any of her classes for any occasion. So her students respectfully came in for a good-bye celebration last week — after school, "if you please."

to tolerate "the possession, use, sale or transfer of drugs in our schools," and that "we consider each instance to be a serious one."

He proposed "immediate expulsion," rather than suspension as the penalty for a violation, with law enforcement officers to be notified immediately.

Expulsion can be made only by the school committee, after a hearing of the parents and students involved. The administration can suspend pupils for up to 10 days.

Seifert noted that school expulsion and court action are two entirely different circumstances, even though they may relate to the same incident. Someone could be expelled from school for breaking a rule of the school, he said, even if he hadn't broken a law.

Finn also proposed that immediate expulsion be the penalty for students found drinking alcoholic beverages on school property or at school-related functions such as athletic games or field trips. The penalty presently in the policy manual is suspension.

Finn said he wanted to delineate the difference between actual drinking on school property and showing up at school or school functions with evidence that one had been drinking. The latter case, he said, would mean suspension, with a student not allowed to attend classes until after a satisfactory parent conference.

"We are going to be very harsh with the student who would bring liquor onto school premises," he said. "That's a lot more serious than arriving with liquor on the breath."

Under the student rights and responsibilities policy, Finn proposed that students who commit obscene "acts" be subject to suspension and expulsion, as well as those who use "obscene words and gestures."

In discussing his ideas for a direction letter, Seifert had earlier noted that "profanity, threats and general disrespect are prevalent among the students," and part of the reason improving teacher morale is one of his highest priorities for the coming year.

Dog Show

On Saturday, June 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., the North Shore Kennel Club, one of the oldest AKC recognized dog clubs in the U.S., will hold its 44th annual Breed and Obedience Dog Show on the grounds of Masconomet High School, Boxford. Masconomet High School is located just east of the Endicott Street (Boxford) exit of route I-95.

Show Chairman Fred Lewis, Georgetown, noted that over eleven hundred dogs from all parts of the United States have been entered for this AKC competition.

Grounds Chairman Dr. Michael Cook, North Andover, who will be assisted in the management of the show grounds by J. Gaines Bolton, Boxford, and members of Boy Scout Troop 59, indicated that parking and lunch facilities as well as the catalog of events will be available as usual for exhibitors and the general public.

Academy Campaign Has Challenge Fund

Twenty-three individuals, families and foundations have offered a $5 million Challenge Fund for the final six months of Phillips Academy's $50 million Bicentennial Campaign. If $10 million in new or increased pledges are secured by Dec. 31, the entire Challenge Fund will be earned and the total $50,610,000 goal achieved. The Andover Campaign has already raised over $35,000,000 in just three years, more than any other secondary school has ever achieved.

Andover Campaign Chairman Melville Chapin, a Boston lawyer, announced the Challenge Fund at a Third Century dinner for Campaign leaders Friday on the campus of the 201-year-old boarding school. Chapin said that the group offering the Challenge includes Andover alumni, Abbot alumnae, parents and two foundations. Every two dollars in new commitments made by others between June 8 and midnight of Dec. 31 will be matched with one dollar from the Challenge Fund. The Challenge Fund will match gifts and pledges from all sources.

"We have a little over six months to raise the $10 million needed to win the Challenge and the Campaign," said Chapin. "Yet in less than six weeks individuals have increased their pledges and others have made substantial commitments for the first time in order to create the Challenge Fund. They believe that it is absolutely essential for Andover that we achieve the entire $50 million and that every single gift, whatever the size, counts in the effort to do so."

The $35,075,630 raised to date has come from 3859 donors. Volunteers seeking gifts from $100,000 to $6,000,000 have secured $25.7 million from 263 individuals. Forty foundation grants totalling $1.7 million and 27 gifts from local and national corporations have been received. Grass roots support, including annual giving, from all other alumni and parents has totalled $7.6 million.

The Andover Campaign was launched in May, 1976, primarily to increase the Academy's endowment — for student scholarships and faculty salaries, for unrestricted support of the residential academic program and for an educational venture fund. Fifteen per cent of the goal is for bricks and mortar, to expand and renovate existing facilities.

"If this Campaign succeeds, it will say that secondary education — those crucial years of adolescent learning — is worth investing in, and deserves support," said Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer on Friday.

The most spectacular gift to Andover's campaign remains the $6 million gift-by-bequest of Walter Scott Leeds received in 1977. Leeds came to Andover in 1904 as a near-penniless scholarship student. Despite being dismissed eight months later, Leeds always regarded his Andover experience as the turning point of his life and when he died, at the age of 93, he left more than $6 million to Andover, saying he had learned that Andover needed financial help.

Troop 76 Bike-A-Thon Nets $300

Final results of the Scout Bike-A-Thon held showed that members of Troop 76 of the Ballardvale United Church peddled over 600 miles. This earned over $300 for the Troop to be used for whatever purpose they designate.

Bikers included: Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, Andrew Dufty; Senior Patrol Leader, John McAllister; patrol leaders, Dana Belpedio and Jim McAllister.

The Alaskan brown bear is the largest meat-eating animal that lives on land; it grows up to nine feet long and weighs over 1500 pounds.

Scribe, Ken Galvin; scouts, Tom Darling, Steven Frances and David Morse. A free week at Camp Onway was won by Dana Belpedio and David Morse. Dana Belpedio was given a special award by his troop for bringing in a total of $189 in pledges. He will be their guest when they take a canoe trip down the Sacco River, June 23 and 24.

Many of the troop are now making preparations for their two weeks at Camp Onway in Raymond, N.H., July 22 through Aug. 4.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates the number of motorcyclists injured annually at more than 350,000.

Going Gardening After 19 Years

By Tim Greene

"A mother to some, a grandmother to others, a hand holder, a nursemaid," will be leaving South School this summer after working there for 19 years, according to principal Jack Woodward.

Mrs. Jane Scholtz, the secretary in the principal's office, plans to retire to her home in Andover where she will work on her vegetable and flower gardens and relax. "I'm going to take each day as it comes and let each thing fall into place and enjoy being home again," she said.

She has been working at South school since her son Dana started kindergarten there in '60. She worked as a cafeteria supervisor for two years and then was hired to the secretarial position in 1962.

The job, as indicated by Woodward's remarks, required much more than just handling secretarial duties. Mrs. Scholtz ran the nurse's office when the nurse was away, answered phones and left messages for teachers and students, dispensed lunch money to students who forgot theirs and was the first to face those students who received that most feared punishment — being sent to the principal's office.

According to Woodward, Mrs. Scholtz usually had to perform several of these duties at once, and he liked the job to "juggling 18 balls in the air at one time."

"There's a lot more to it than when I came here in 1962," she admitted. "There's never a dull moment here."

She was born in Canton and moved to Andover in 1944 when she married her husband, Curtis, and moved into 110 Ballardvale Road where they have lived since.

Her history at South is longer than many who work there. "I even saw them pour the foundations of this school," she said, "and I'm with my fifth principal."

"Who we'll ever get to replace her, I don't know," said Mrs. Christine Maynard, a third grade teacher who organized a retirement party for Mrs. Scholtz at the Andover Inn. The 72 guests who attended presented her with a gold bracelet engraved with, "South School, 1960-1979."

Mrs. Scholtz said she expects to enjoy her retirement, but does not leave South without some regrets.

"I suppose I'll miss the people I've associated with and the friends I've made, but I'll see the ladies shopping downtown when I'm shopping," she said.

Chongris Gravel Pit Decision Is Delayed

Selectmen held public hearings on two gravel removal permits Monday night, approving one permit and taking no action on the other.

John Deloury had his permit approved by selectmen and can operate his gravel pit in the Fosters Pond area 30 days after the state Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) approves the conditions of the permit. Appeals can be made during the 30-day period.

George Chongris, seeking a new permit to remove gravel from his property off Blanchard Street, has to wait for the selectmen to review the particulars of his request.

Deloury, in his efforts to win a permit, has been opposed by Fosters Pond residents. They have appealed to the DEQE, but have been unable to stop the project.

The last sticking point was whether the board of selectmen would allow Deloury not to fertilize part of the gravel pit site when he is done digging there. The portion not to be fertilized is within a 400-foot radius of a North Reading water well, which would be polluted if the area were fertilized.

Selectmen voted to waive the requirement that Deloury fertilize that part of the site within 400 feet of the well. He must, however, plant vegetation there which is comparable to that on the remaining, fer-

The school committee Tuesday night gave the administration the go ahead to study bus route changes that could reduce mileage and therefore the budget, but also some of the "door to door" service that has been the tradition here.

The administration will return with proposals later in the summer, in time for parents to be notified of any changes before school starts in September.

As in the past, and by state law, all children who live more than two miles from school would be bused, and no one would walk more than a mile to a bus stop.

Under the new guidelines, however, youngsters in fourth grade and up could get more exercise.

Youngsters in kindergarten through third grade would be bused at the present limits — if they live more than a mile from school — but fourth through sixth graders wouldn't be bused unless a potential safety hazard existed.

Kindergarten busing will remain as it is now and secondary pupils would be required to walk up to the two-mile state limit.

According to Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, there would be no limit on the numbers of pupils picked up at a single stop and buses wouldn't sidetrack into a cul-de-sac or development unless necessary for the safety of the youngsters. This is a significant change, he said, from a convenience Andover has offered for a number of years. However, he also noted there cannot be 100 percent consistency in routes in a town that's one of the largest in the state in area.

Secondary bus routes would not start any earlier than 6:45 a.m. and elementary, no earlier than 7:50 a.m., Seifert said, "with great reluctance." Even those hours, he said, are "very early," and noted that in Andover, as in most school systems, the bus routes determine the school day.

Another major change is that each bus could contain up to 25 percent standing riders.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann noted that pupils are allowed to stand in this state by law, but that a previous school committee had voted that there would be no standees.

She added, however, that it should be clearly stated in the bus drivers' manual that they have to pause long enough for the riders to get settled.

Potential safety hazards, that could affect the proposed regulations are considered "gray" areas because of their many variables, including traffic congestion, industrial shift changes, steep hills, dangerous approaches to intersections, railroad crossings, narrow bridges, sharp curves, crowns of hills, obstruction of visibility, lack of sidewalks, high accident rate areas and main highways.

Candidates Sought

The Andover School Committee is seeking persons interested in joining their ranks until the next town election.

Casimir Kolaski has officially notified the town clerk that he will resign effective June 25, and a fifth member will be jointly appointed by the school committee and selectmen to take his place.

Kolaski has been promoted to head of HUD for Rhode Island and will be moving to that state.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann told Kolaski Tuesday night that "Although we don't like to discuss your imminent departure, it is imminent."

She said she will officially notify the selectmen of the vacancy June 26, and that the two boards will then make arrangements to get together.

She said three people have already indicated their interest in being interviewed for the interim position. However, others are still encouraged to apply.

1979 SCIROCCO. SEE WHAT SPORTSCARS SHOULD HAVE BEEN IN THE FIRST PLACE.

Amazing as it sounds, sports cars don't have to be high-priced, cramped, gas-swilling prima donnas.

And get this: Scirocco gets an EPA estimated 24 MPG and 38 MPG estimated highway mileage. (Compare this estimate to the "Estimated MPG" of other cars.

Your mileage may vary with speed, weather and trip length. Highway mileage will probably be less.)

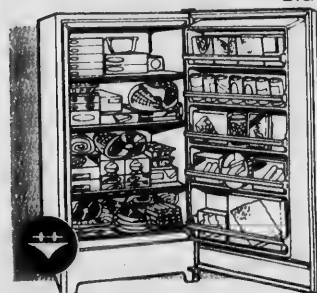

But, let's talk performance. If you're a purist who really appreciates a fine mechanism, Scirocco is for you. Its powertrain is a 4-cylinder, in-line, 1.6-liter, fuel-injected, overhead cam engine designed to respond like a trophy's at stake.

Traditionally, the sportscar shows an advanced state of design. Come drive Scirocco. It shows the advanced state of the sportscar.

Some Random Thoughts

Just a few random thoughts as the school year winds down to a close and the graduation season ends amid the joys of accomplishment.

There were the usual complaints about the media following the problems at Andover High last week, the most prominent of course, being why concentrate on the problem youths, while the good youngsters get little mention.

It's almost a chronic complaint anytime a story such as the arrest of some young people on drug charges at Andover High breaks.

One such letter was addressed to the TOWNSMAN this past week but the writer specifically complained about coverage in another newspaper, thus we will leave the defense or commentary to them.

But as a matter of curiosity, we checked our edition of a week ago to see what kind of balance was attained — in other words were the problem areas emphasized to the detriment of noting accomplishment.

Not so surprising was the fact that throughout the pages of the TOWNSMAN, in addition to numerous graduation listings, there were stories of young people in Andover schools assisting the town's senior citizens and making a presentation at the Haven.

There were stories of senior members of the church being honored, the town's top spellers were recorded and pictured, a high school student was pictured receiving a major science award, a listing of Hall of Fame inductees, including two recent Andover high graduates, was included, honoring of municipal employees with many years of service to the town.

Also noted were the efforts of many of the town's young athletes, either in interscholastic competition or in various leagues and programs within the community.

In our judgement, the scales were tipped heavily toward the side of those who had attained significant accomplishment, or contributed some worthwhile activity to the community.

Our efforts will continue to be toward emphasizing efforts of young people and all townspeople who perform exemplary service.

We shall also continue to put forth news of those who present problems to the community, or are involved in activities such as reported a week ago. It is a duty, albeit unpleasant at times, that hopefully by the attention drawn can contribute toward alleviating such problems in the future.

Chamber of Commerce Note:

For those who might have the false impression that the Andover Chamber of Commerce might be solely business oriented, we might note that Governor King, for one, found the organization quite community-oriented.

Invited to address the annual dinner meeting last Wednesday night, Gov. King was proceeding through the reception period, pumping handshakes and extending affable greetings.

"What about that access road off Route 93 for Lowell Junction industrial area?" one member asked.

"First I heard of it," Gov. King replied. "I'll check on it Friday morning."

The first of this week a chamber official received a call from the commissioner of public works with an updated progress report on the much-desired road, which would not only aid industry in Lowell Junction, but also relieve traffic problems in the Ballardvale area.

Building Committee: The school building committee gets down to the serious business of coming up with a plan for the town's secondary school housing problems tonight.

They face a difficult task in providing the town with some guidance on what direction to move as far as providing facilities for the junior high and high school population.

It has passed through three town meeting sessions in the past year and a half, with confusion over issues leading to no decisions.

As it heads for what must be considered the final study, we hope that the various committees and officials involved can work together to come up with a plan which will be amicable and acceptable.

Realizing it will not be an easy task, we wish them well in their assigned duties, noting that the decision must be made soon on direction, since continued debate and study will only add to the ultimate cost of the project.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June, 1904

The selectmen have appointed C. A. Clemons of Ballardvale as game warden without pay.

Two young men were fined $10 last Saturday night for "shooting craps" on the Lord's day.

A recent issue of the Insurance Press contains the statement that during the year 1903, $30,548 were paid to beneficiaries in Andover.

Frans Poland, who has been out of town for several weeks, returned home the first of the week.

Ansel S. Richards, formerly of Andover, is publisher of "The Barbarian," which is to appear monthly. The first number is now on sale in Andover. It is, according to the publisher's foreword, a monthly magazine devoted to the idea of simple living and honest thinking, filled with matter designed to interest all sorts of people with psychic capacities. Because it has no party, sect, syndicate, clique or conclave to serve, "The Barbarian" is fearless and outspoken in what it has to say on people and things.

Dr. Marcello Autchinson of Waterbury Vt., superintendent of Vermont Insane Asylum, is visiting relatives in Andover today.

50 Years Ago — June, 1929

The Pumps pond swimming beach opened its season on Saturday. As usual there are many children not provided with suitable bathing suits and those in charge of the beach make the annual request that any persons having partly worn or outgrown bathing suits which they are willing to pass on, will either notify Life-Guard John Robertson of Avon Street or leave their gifts at the police station.

Privates John Welch and Joseph Dwyer, USMC, are now stationed with the marine detachment at the Charlestown Navy Yard and visited their families and friends in town Friday afternoon and evening. Both have just returned from seeing foreign duty. Private Welch was in Nicaragua during the recent uprising there, and Private Dwyer saw duty in Shanghai, China during the recent revolts there.

25 Years Ago — June, 1954

Of an anticipated number of 103 graduates of the class of 1954 of Pynchard High School, information up to this date shows that 33 percent have secured admission to four-year degree-granting colleges, nursing, business and technical or professional schools.

A chicken barbecue supper will be served Saturday June 19 on the West Parish church grounds under the auspices of the Junior Women's Union. There will be three servings at 5, 6, and 7 p.m.

Six Andover boys were among the 220 seniors of Phillips Academy which received their diplomas Sunday at graduation exercises for the school's 176th senior class.

Traffic halted on Andover streets and pedestrians scurried to shelters at 10 o'clock last Monday morning when air raids signalled the mock attack of enemy planes. The test in which the town participated was the first embracing the U.S. and Canada as make-believe bombs were dropped on numerous large population centers.

10 Years Ago — June 1969

Town Counsel Frederick J. O'Brien has ruled that the FinCom members cannot examine departmental accounts or meet with department heads as originally planned by the watch-dog group.

Despite a record draw on the water supply last Friday, there is no apparent need to place restraints on water use here according to Water Superintendent Donald C. Bassett.

A long-range educational plan for Andover schools, worked out with administrators, teachers and the school committee, will be a very important part of incoming Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert's job this year. Seifert, visiting Andover to talk with school personnel and to househunt, said that the payoff of education, as far as he was concerned, was the interaction between teachers and students. It's his style of operating, he said to keep in frequent contact with all the schools so he can understand what is going on inside them.

Oil Men Confide They're Aiming For $2-a-Gallon Gasoline Price

WASHINGTON — Since the first of the year, gasoline prices have been climbing steadily. The oil companies are now close to their goal of $1 per gallon and, in some places, the price has already passed the dollar mark.

Now the oil firms have a new goal. The oil men are talking privately of driving the price up to $2 a gallon. They have watched the scramble for gas in California and they believe most Americans will pay $2 a gallon to keep their tanks filled.

We have no evidence of a conspiracy to force up prices. But we have talked privately to oil men. We promised not to identify them; in return, they agreed to speak frankly.

There has been quiet talk in the boardrooms of $2-a-gallon gasoline. The oil executives believe they can get at least this much, perhaps more, for gas at the pump.

The oil companies like to blame OPEC, the oil cartel, for the gasoline shortage. And it is true that OPEC has been holding down production.

But the giant oil conglomerates handle the distribution and they can manipulate it to create shortages and drive up prices. For example, the oil companies are now selling more oil to Europe, where the prices are high, and less to the United States, where the prices are lower.

The oil companies can also regulate the crude oil production from their wells in the United States. The oil men admitted to us that some companies are holding down production until the price is right.

Finally, the oil firms can adjust the refinery output. They can determine how much crude to convert into gasoline. The oil men admitted that all these techniques are being used to control the flow of gasoline to the pumps. It is likely, therefore, that they will succeed in pushing gas prices up to $2 per gallon.

Meanwhile, some high-level White House aides have been grumbling privately that Energy Secretary James Schlesinger — who believes the soaring oil prices are perfectly reasonable — is a political liability. One of his chief critics is the domestic policy chief, Stuart Eizenstat.

Schlesinger, in turn, has a low opinion of the White House staff. He has complained quietly about what he considers inferior White House staff work.

The decision whether to keep Schlesinger on, of course, will be up to the president. Jimmy Carter admires Schlesinger's cool intellect. But the president listens carefully to his top political adviser, Hamilton Jordan.

In public, Jordan has strongly supported the energy chief. But not long ago, a Washington attorney approached Jordan in a downtown Washington bar and asked why the president didn't fire Schlesinger. The attorney compared the energy secretary to the south end of a northbound horse.

Responded Jordan: "Yeah, I know."

The Fuddle Factory: The Copyright Royalty Tribunal is a relatively new government board with a population of 11 bureaucrats. They haven't done much yet about copyrights, but they have installed plants in their offices. This meant that someone had to water the greenery. The chore was apparently beneath their dignity, so the 11 bureaucrats shelled out $1,100 of the taxpayers' money for a plant-care-and-watering service.

• Every day of the year, an average of 22,000 bureaucrats take off on business trips and the taxpayers pick up the tabs. Indeed, President Carter's 1980 budget allots more than $3 billion for federal travel. The junketing champion, it appears, is a little-known agency called the Railroad Retirement Board. Over a recent six-month period, 11 of the board's bureaucrats took a total of 39 trips. One wanderer flew, first-class, from Chicago to Las Vegas, returned, then immediately took off on another first-class trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Paint Problem: The National Park Service is having trouble keeping the White House white. The Executive Mansion is usually repainted once every four years. But the last paint job lasted only a year and a half before it started to peel and the National Bureau of Standards is in the midst of a $60,000 study of the problem.

Whatever the solution, officials estimate that it will cost at least $100,000 to paint the building next year. The price in 1968, in contrast, was only $27,000. By 1972, it had jumped to $65,000.

National Park Service officials thought they got quite a deal in 1976 when one company offered to do the job for only $29,000. But the paint began to peel only a month after the job was finished. The contractor repainted the White House after the government complained but now he wants another $20,000 for the extra work.

Musical Come-on: One ingenious recruiter in Florida recently found a solution to the Army's chronic recruiting problem. When three members of a local rock band enlisted, their recruiter asked that they be assigned to him as aides.

The trio was sent out to local high schools and shopping malls where the rock beat proved to be appealing. The recruiting sergeant made his quotas easily and exceeded his goal one month by more than 300 percent.

But, alas, there came budget problems and the rock band was split up. The three musical recruiters were assigned to different locales.

Pelletier, McIntyre Pace Andover Entry

By Rick Harrison

Outstanding pitching efforts by righthanders Jon Pelletier and Glen McIntyre got the Andover Babe Ruth 13-15 year old baseball team off to an auspicious start in the Greater-Lawrence League.

Pelletier checked defending regular-season champ North Andover on three hits, walking eight and striking out 12, and Rich Grimm clouted a gigantic 400-foot grand slam homerun to boost defending playoff titlist Andover to a 5-1 victory at Grogan's Field.

McIntyre came back with a solid four-hit shutout performance, fanning seven and walking just one, as the locals whitewashed South Lawrence West 8-0 at Mark Devlin Field.

Andover also chalked up a 5-4 pre-season victory over the Wilmington Mavericks of the Reading Pony League at the East Junior High Playstead Field, giving it a 2-0 league record and 3-0 overall mark through action last Monday night.

The team was scheduled to face Prospect Hill Tuesday night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, and tonight Andover faces North Lawrence at Mark Devlin Field (6 p.m.).

Andover, 5-1

Jon Pelletier, staying almost exclusively with his glove-popping fastball, had the North Andover batters flailing away futilely for the most part.

NA righthander Jack Fiorino pitched brilliantly himself, making just one big mistake which Grimm deposited over the distant leftfield fence in the second inning.

Fiorino furnished with a two-hitter, walking just two and striking out 10.

Jake Powell and Glen McIntyre led the pivotal second inning by reaching on consecutive infield errors, and then Andy Emmert walked on a 3-2 serve to load the bases for Grimm.

He caught Fiorino's first pitch and drilled it well past the chainlink barrier in left, clearing the bases and giving Andover a comfortable 4-0 cushion.

It was the first grand slam homer hit by an Andover Babe Ruth in recent memory, and it was also the first time an Andover player has ever cleared the leftfield fence at Grogan's.

Andover made its only other hit count, as McIntyre singled sharply to open the fifth and promptly stole both second and third. Grimm drew a one-out walk, and the pair pulled off a perfect delayed double steal with McIntyre racing home.

The locals mounted one other threat in the sixth. Tim Grams walked, stole second, and took third when Pelletier reached on an error. Pelletier then swiped second, but the pair were left stranded on a shallow flyout to center and a strikeout.

North Andover's lone run came in the bottom of the fifth when leadoff batter Ken Dillman walked, Greg Blezinski singled sharply to left-center, Fiorino stroked an infield single, and Ken Long walked.

Pelletier escaped further trouble when John Skiba bounced a bases-loaded one-hopper back to the mound.

NA's only other bid was in the fourth, when it loaded the bases with two down on a single by Long and walks to Mike Valentino and Paul Kolano. Pelletier worked free by getting Kurt Niziak on a grounder to Powell at third.

Rich Grimm made a pair of fine catches in leftfield, while shortstop Jeff Demers also sparkled defensively.

Andover, 8-0

Andover found the serves of SLW lefthander Cal Green more to its liking last Monday night, rapping out nine singles and breaking open a tight game with four runs in the sixth and two more in the seventh.

McIntyre, who retired seven straight batters during one early stretch, saw his shutout in jeopardy only once when West loaded the bases on an error, single and walk in the sixth.

Glen bore down to fan Dave Hosshan and end the threat.

Andover hit the ball hard in the first inning, lacing a pair of sharp singles but failing to score.

In the second Andy Emmert laid down a perfect bunt single, stole second and third, and scored when Ed O'Connor slapped a single to leftfield.

The winners added a second run in the third when Pelletier singled, stole second and third, and raced home on McIntyre's sacrifice fly to rightfield.

Two errors, a walk, a bases-loaded grounder by Billy Vickers and an RBI single by Tim Grams highlighted the four-run sixth.

Rich Grimm was hit by a pitch with two down in the seventh, Steve Dougal walked, Tom Powers reached on an error, Rob Wilson drew an RBI walk, and a passed ball accounted for the other run as Andover made it 8-0.

O'Connor finished the game 2-for-2 and Grams added a pair of safeties. Jake Powell also stroked a single, while Grimm and Emmert scored two runs apiece.

Robbie Wilson and Tim Grams both made fine catches in the outfield.

Andover, 5-4

Rich Grimm, Tim Grams, Jim MacMillan and Jon Pelletier all pitched, combining for a four-hitter as Andover edged the Wilmington Mavericks in pre-season play.

The locals overcame a 4-2 deficit with three runs in the fifth.

Tom Powers delivered a key two-run single that tied the game 4-4, while Jon Pelletier and Jake Powell were both hot with identical 3-for-4 days at the plate.

Singles by Jeff Demers, Glen McIntyre and Jim MacMillan completed the Andover attack.

Tim Grams made a spectacular diving catch in centerfield in the fourth, and turned it into a superb doubleplay by gunning a strike to the plate to catch a Wilmington runner trying to tag up and score.

Jamboree

Andover ran up against North Andover in the annual pre-season Jamboree, dropping a 3-1 decision in the abbreviated three-inning "game."

The lone Andover run came in the top of the first when Grams led with a long double to right-centerfield, and scored on Pelletier's crisp single.

Roster

The roster of the Andover team includes eight veterans from last year's squad, along with seven newcomers.

The vets are 15-year-olds Tim Grams, Rich Grimm, Jake Powell and Jon Pelletier, along with 14s Jeff Demers, Andy Emmert, Matt Wells and Jim MacMillan.

New to the team are 15-year-old Glen McIntyre, 14-year-old Ed O'Connor, and 13-year-olds Mike Gibson, Tom Powers, Rob Wilson, Steve Dougal and Billy Vickers.

All-Stars

Several Andover players including Grams, Powell, Pelletier, Emmert and all five 13-year-olds are currently trying out for the two Greater-Lawrence League All-Star teams, both of whom will open District play within the next month.

Montreal Trip

The team will also make its annual four-day trip to Montreal, Canada July 5-8.

While in Montreal the team will play several games against Canadian competition, will visit the "Man and His World" site which includes one of North America's largest amusement areas ("La Ronde"), will view a Montreal Expos-Los Angeles Dodgers game, and will take several recreational swims.

The players will reside at the University of Montreal during their stay.

Solar Energy

Solar energy may provide Israel with eight to 15 percent of its needs by the 1990s. Saltwater solar ponds collect and store heat on the bottom where temperatures approach the boiling point, Massachusetts Audubon says. One pond fuels a 30-kilowatt electric plant; another provides power for a resort hotel.

GLAMOURIZE YOUR BEDROOM

Did you ever stop to think that you spend as much time, or possibly more time, in your bedroom than in your living room.

Yet, many people put most of their decorating emphasis on living rooms. Naturally, the living room deserves top attention because that's the room everybody sees and uses — but often not enough attention is paid to bedrooms, and there are many good reasons why bedrooms should get more.

For one thing, bedrooms are a very personal place, and, therefore, should have some unique decorating touches. Secondly, bedrooms should have an overall beautiful atmosphere because after all, you begin every day in your bedroom, and you end every day there. Bedrooms should be furnished in such a way that you have a nice place to bring your cares of the day each night; and a nice place from which to start on a new day every morning.

You might also want to consider furnishing your bedroom for snacking, sewing, writing, etc., during the day. The bedroom is your special place and it should be decorated in special ways.

We can help you bring glamour to your bedroom and make it the place you want it to be. Come on in for ideas and furnishings.

When he was born, if you had deposited $1000. into an 8 year term certificate on his 8th birthday he would have $1913.41. If you then re-invested that for another 8 years on his 16th birthday he would have $3661.33. # AHS Track Team Ends Outstanding Season

The Andover High School Boy's Track Team closed out its 1979 season with an outstanding performance finishing second in the New England Championships held on June 9 at Brown University Field in Providence, R.I.

Paul Farnham, Noel Pizarro, Bob Surret and Melvin Berger led the way for the Golden Warriors who scored 28 points to finish just two points behind Brockton who won the title with 30 points as a result of three first place finishes. Ayer High School, who finished in a tie for the State Championship with Andover finished third with 20 points.

Paul Farnham continued his fine work in the triple jump as he finished in second place with a leap of 45'10½", just 3" behind the winner. Noel Pizarro ran his best race of the year in finishing second behind Methuen's Kevin Tarr in the 220. Bob Surret continued his fine improvement finishing third in the 330 yard low hurdles in a school record breaking time of :39.0. Melvin Berger rounded out the scoring with an excellent third place finish in the 100 yard dash.

Unfortunately the Golden Warriors were forced to compete in the New England minus their strongest event — the 440 Relay. In the New England each state is allowed four competitors in each event except the relay where only one is allowed. The Golden Warrior relayers that broke both the school and State Class B records this year were nosed out by Ayer in a photo finish in the State All-Class Meet and were thus unable to compete. Ayer went on to win the New England relay in a time that Andover has beaten many times this season. If Andover had been allowed to compete in the relay a fifth place finish would have given the Golden Warriors the New England title.

In spite of the relay disappointment in the New England, the Andover Track Team finished one of its finest seasons ever. In seven major championships in which the team competed, it won four titles and was runner up in the three others. Included in the record was a 9-1 dual meet season which included an exciting win over the Phillips Academy Varsity Team.

The Andover Track Record for 1979: Andover Booster's Invitational Championships; State Coaches Relays Co-Champions with Reading; Northern Area Champions; State All-Class Co-Champions with Ayer; Merrimack Valley League runnerup to Methuen; State Class B runnerup to Methuen; New England runner up to Brockton.

Andover Loses Opener, 6-3

By Rick Harrison

The Andover entry in the new Greater-Lawrence 16-18 Babe Ruth Baseball League launched its season on a sour note last Sunday, dropping a 6-3 decision to Lawrence American in the opening game of a twinbill at Mark Devlin Field.

Chelmsford slugged Lawrence National 10-2 in the nightcap.

Lawrence American snapped a brief scoreless tie with four runs in the bottom of the second inning. Andover closed the gap to 4-2 in the top of the fourth, but Lawrence countered with a pair of runs in the bottom half. The final Andover tally was scored in the sixth.

Righthander Frank Pelletier started and took the pitching loss for Andover, as a combination of his own wildness and some shabby fielding support led to his quick exit in the second.

Jim Herman finished up with four and two thirds frames of sharp two-hit relief, walking two and striking out four.

Rathbun First Hit

Steve Rathbun of Andover lined one-out single in the top of the first for the initial hit of the new league. He stole second, but died there as the next two batters struck out.

Winning pitcher Ed Hickey opened the four-run Lawrence American second inning with a walk. Dave Gamache followed with a single to leftfield, and when the ball eluded the outfielder Hickey scored from first.

One out later Pelletier suddenly went wild and issued three straight walks, forcing home the second run.

A two-out infield chopper resulted in a throwing error, producing two more runs, but Goterch was tagged out at home by Herman to end the inning.

Andover bounced back in the fourth when Jim Lacourse walked, stole second, and Chris O'Hara drilled on RBI single to leftfield.

O'Hara then swiped second, and with two out Fred Foote lined a single to centerfield plating O'Hara.

Lawrence American got those two runs right back, however.

With one out Bob Zibolis walked, and Tom Jean spanked a liner to rightfield for a basehit. The throw to third, trying to nail Zibolis, was wild as one run scored and Jean ended up on third.

An infield error allowed Jean to cross with yet another earned run.

Final Run

In the Andover sixth Lacourse and

O'Hara once again teamed up, as the former walked, took second on a passed ball, and scored when O'Hara slammed a single to leftfield.

The locals threatened in the top of the seventh, loading the bases on consecutive one-out singles by Kevin Daly and Bob Heidt, and a two-out walk to Lacourse (his third of the game).

O'Hara lashed a grounder up the middle, but Lawrence American shortstop Jim Lovehoun scooped it up and stepped on second to end the game.

Andover was scheduled to return to league play last Tuesday night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, with an 8 p.m. game at Devlin Field against Chelmsford. Lefthander Heidt was listed to pitch.

Each participant will be required to successfully complete a swimming test before he or she will be allowed to begin lessons. The test involves swimming 75 yards fully clothed and floating 10 minutes in a life jacket.

Registration forms for this program are now available at the main offices of all Andover Schools and at the Department of Community Services offices on Bartlett Street.

LL Cards Win Three

Cardinals 5, Dodgers 1

Although the game had to be called because of rain, after the fifth inning, family and friends watched an exciting and fast moving ball game. Ted Cormier had 2 hits, David Sterensier a double, Hucker Grams a double and also timely relief pitching by Grams.

The Dodgers only hit gave credit to D. Yeiters home run.

Cardinals 23, Cubs 1

With the combined pitching of Robbie Carpentier and Hucker Grams they struck out 15 Cub batters. Heads up ball was played by Steve Surette, Jeff Tarro and Scott Deery. There was timely hitting by John Gangi and Steve Donovan all helping out to make this another win for the Cardinals.

The Cubs had good effort put forth by Billy Donovan, Vinny Fichera and Cam Deery.

Cardinals 6, Giants 5

In easily the most exciting game of the year Robbie Carpentier pitched shut out ball for 5 innings striking out 8 batters. John Geiger took over in the sixth inning and the Giants came alive with Tom Lutz hitting a two run home run. R. Salisbury and Chris Scarper got two timely hits putting the Giants ahead 5 to 1 going into the bottom of the sixth. With the Cardinals "never say die" attitude, Ted Cormier, Mike Surette, Mark Grams and John Geiger came in hitting and made it another win for the Cardinals.

Sea Bird,

The female phalarope, a sea bird, is more brightly colored than the male; she courts the male, and he incubates the eggs and cares for the young. These birds breed and nest on islands in the Arctic, Massachusetts Audubon notes.

The first state legislation requiring factory inspections was in Massachusetts in 1879, according to the U.S. Department of Labor publication "Labor Firsts in America."

Andover High Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, Juniors and Sophomores ended this academic year with finals, probably the most feared of all tests given during the year — even those who don't study for midyears, study for finals.

It's evident by the talk in the halls how important these are, they're the only topic of conversation and drown out all other discussions, which only last week seemed paramount.

As the bell rings, signalling the end of an exam, students file to their lockers, some scowling over how badly they feel they've done, some shyly smiling, not wanting to brag about how easy the test seemed, and some still pondering the answer to a difficult question.

In the past week the Junior and Sophomore classes have seemed to move easily into their new roles as Seniors and Juniors.

As the summer-like heat continues, discussions of the beach and thoughts of upcoming vacation dwell on the students' minds. It's only a matter of one more day until students can leave the massive concrete structure for nearly three months. Until they no longer have to have restrictions of homework or upcoming term papers to worry about, until they can once again feel free and have no worries, except having fun, on their mind. For high school students, more than elementary, this is probably the most carefree time in their lives.

Here's hoping that everyone has a safe and happy summer. See you in the Fall.

East Roof Repairs

Roof repairs and plastering necessary to make East Jr. High safe for students in the fall, will cost the town about $6,000.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said Tuesday night that estimates had been made and bids put out for the over-the-summer job.

It's not a major overhaul, he said, but enough to satisfy the safety requirements set by Building Inspector William Meins.

In fact, Seifert said, it could be termed a "short term" repair, or one expected to last about five years.

German peasants once believed that they could cure an animal's broken leg if they bandaged a chair leg.

Bardetti Volkswagen Showing "New Generation" VW's

Paul Lazzaro, general manager of Bardetti Volkswagen, 915 So. Main St. (Rt. 125), Ward Hill, says sales of Volkswagen in the area have increased 75% during 1979. "We have seen very strong acceptance of the new generation VW's," he states.

People are realizing that while other car companies are planning for the future, Volkswagen is already building cars that are years ahead of their time.

In fuel efficiency, VW has the 3 top rated automobiles rated by the Environmental Protection Agency. The federally mandated "Corporate Average Fuel Economy" figure for 1985 is 27.5 mpg., while Volkswagen reports preliminary corporate fuel economy for 1979 of 27.8 mpg.

Passive safety devices requiring no action by occupants are built into every Volkswagen. All have energy absorbing zones built into their front and rear end structures and some Rabbit models are equipped with VW's unique passive restraint system. Passive restraints will be required in 1984. Volkswagen has had them since 1975.

All of the 1979 Volkswagens share another feature many cars today lack — space efficiency. VW's Bus is a great alternative to conventional wagons for drivers who want to carry up to eight passengers or lots of bulky gear with no sacrifice in economy. All of Volkswagen's cars are roomy. In fact, the smallest sedan, the Rabbit, has more trunk space than some cars you think of as being large.

For full sales and service in the complete Volkswagen line, see Bardetti Volkswagen. They have a wide selection of all models on hand — Rabbit, Dasher, Scirocco, Bus, Camptmobile, Beetle Convertible, etc. Drive in any time and look them over. Bardetti Volkswagen is located at 915 So. Main Street, Ward Hill. Tel. 687-0696 or 374-0711.

ESCROW

One word used frequently in real estate matters but not too well understood by the layman is the word "ESCROW".

This word normally pops its head with regard to "deposit" or "earnest money" paid at time of signing a purchase and sales agreement. This deposit is generally held in "escrow" or a "trustee" account by the Realtor until the closing. The word "ESCROW" may occur again at the culmination of the sale of a home if any of the terms of the purchase and sales agreement are incomplete. This sum of money is placed in the hands of an impartial party (usually the attorney or the bank) by one party of the transaction and is not released to the other party until he meets specific conditions.

For example, if there is painting or landscaping to be completed at the time of the closing, the money for this work can be held in escrow until it is completed. In this way, the passing of title will not be held up until the job is completed, yet both parties are protected.

do.

Atty. Ford said it would be a financial hardship for Chongris to have to fill in the pond.

Sgt. James F. Johnson, administrative assistant to the police chief, called the pond an "attractive nuisance." "You're having drugs and booze out there," he said. "As long as you have the water there, you're going to have the problem."

He said police were at the site Friday and Saturday nights and that a patrol team was broken up to post an officer near the pond in an unmarked car.

Residents of the area said carloads of "high school and college kids" frequent the site.

Judith Sleath, 84 Blanchard St., said, "We have not been able to sleep every single weekend because the cars are in there to 2 or 3 in the morning. I'm talking 20, 30, 50 cars."

She said the students, when they are chased out, wait for the police to leave, then return.

Her husband, John, said he could not paint his house last summer because of the dust raised by the uncovered trucks leaving the site with loads of sand and gravel.

Stanley Nabydowski, a farmer in the area, said the pond had caused his wells to dry up, and several of his livestock were killed because of it.

Benjamin and Garabed Dargoonian, farmers on Blanchard Street, said they recognized the problems with drinking and dust, but also recognized the need for gravel removal sites. They asked selectmen to approve the permit and get the excavation over as soon as possible.

Charles Tateosian, another Blanchard Street farmer, voiced a similar request.

Nabydowski said the Dargoonians and Tateosian were hired to come testify in behalf of Chongris.

Dargoonian said Nabydowski should clean up his farm.

Nabydowski said Dargoonian should stop killing his pigs.

Selectman chairman Edward M. Harris banged his gavel and told both men to "shut up."

Judith Wright, 10 Bellevue Road, said the trucks leaving the site have been clocked at 35 miles per hour on the street which has no shoulders and which children ride bicycles on.

Selectmen planned to research the history of the original agreement with Chongris before making any decision on the matter.

The agreement was made two years ago, before most of the selectmen, the town manager, and the community development director were in office.
